Jim Gordon drew this in 1966. He got this in an out-of-body experience at night. It was over a two week period that he kept going back to the same spots. He was 15 years old. In 1977 Jim went to Mexico for the first time. In Mexico City, Dr. and Mrs. Chancellor introduced him to Daniel Sein, and Robert Sein, archaeologists - one worked for the U.N. and the other for the Mexican Government. When Jim showed them his pictures, they took him to their library and showed him the books that the photographs of these constructions were in. In the out-of-body experiences that he had he was shown to be a priest of the Mayan culture in the Temple of the Morning Star - Venus.
